CORE PHILOSOPHY

What Is A Time Bank?

Time Banking is a reciprocal service exchange where time is the principal currency. It is rooted in the timeless truth that every human being has valuable talents to share.

The Principle of Equality

In a Time Bank, one hour of service always equals one time credit, regardless of the task. An hour spent reading to a senior is valued exactly the same as an hour of computer tutoring or home plumbing.

- 1 hour given = 1 time credit earned
- No market pricing disparity
- Every community member has equal dignity

Reciprocity Over Charity

Time Banking is built on two-way reciprocity: everyone is both a giver and a receiver. A grandmother who receives rides to the clinic can earn credits back by teaching baking or knitting.

- Fosters pride, dignity, and mutual respect
- Builds genuine neighborhood friendships
- Eliminates the stigma of asking for help

A Living Social Safety Net

Money cannot buy genuine community warmth. Time Banking weaves an active safety net into your neighborhood. It combats loneliness, assists elderly residents, and provides families with trustworthy support.

- Stronger community resilience
- Multi-generational bonds & mentorship
- Social wealth that stays in the neighborhood

SIMPLE & SEAMLESS

How The System Works

Getting help and helping others takes only a few taps on your smartphone or web browser:

1. Join & Declare Skills — Create your verified profile. List talents you enjoy sharing and areas where you may need support.
2. Request or Discover — Post a request when you need a hand, or browse the community feed to see who needs help today.
3. Deliver the Service — Coordinate time and location with your neighbor, and complete the service with warmth and care.
4. Earn Time Credits — Both parties confirm completion. Verified hours deposit directly into your digital Time Wallet.
5. Spend or Pay Forward — Use credits to receive support, gift hours to family, or redeem perks at local partner shops.
